Greensboro, NC -- A church coming to downtown Greensboro has already started reaching out the homeless.

Awaken City Church hopes to locate in the downtown area by January 10, but in the meantime, they've already started a mission of helping the homeless at Center City Park.

The group cooked hot pancakes and sausage Sunday morning to help feed the homeless.

The church has been doing this every Sunday morning for the last two months and volunteers plan to keep it going.

Church members currently meet at the Triad Conference Center on Regional Road.

You can find out how to help the church with supplies to give to the homeless by visiting www.awakencitychurch.com.
